FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE FY 2025 <

OUR OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

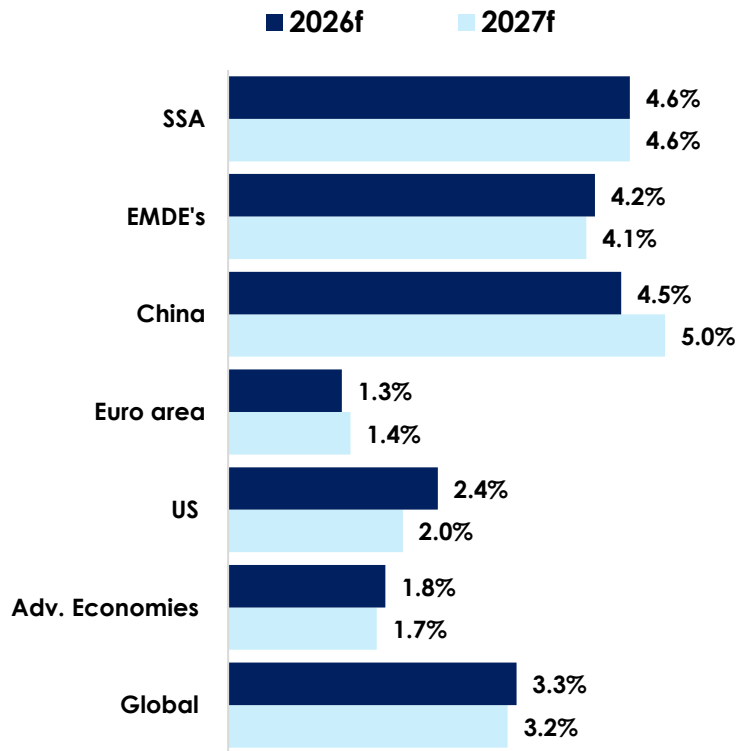

Global growth resilience tested once again by the Middle East oil shock

1 Global GDP growth is expected to undershoot current projections amid Middle East tensions

2 Global inflation was easing through February, but oil shock effects are likely to drive it higher

3 Monetary easing has paused amid rising inflation and uncertainty over the duration of the conflict and recovery

IMF World Economic Outlook Projections, Jan 2026

Inflation is sticky but close to 2% target

Monetary Policy Rate Projections

OUR OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

The region has demonstrated considerable economic resilience; but post-election dynamics continue to shape growth and inflation risks

KENYA

- 2026 GDP outlook is more uncertain, with growth and inflation risks
- Public sector & select services are likely to remain resilient.
- MPC is expected to turn more cautious following recent oil shock

UGANDA

- 2026 growth should remain supported, despite external risks
- Oil investment and strong coffee exports should provide resilience
- BoU likely to hold policy rate at 9.75% to manage external risks

RWANDA

- 2026 outlook clouded by external pressures, but growth should remain strong
- Economy remains relatively resilient despite inflation and FX pressures
- BNR likely to turn more cautious following recent external headwinds

TANZANIA

- 2026 growth hinges on the balance between external pressures and investment momentum
- Moody's B1/stable affirms resilience
- Middle East conflict impact on exports and the currency remains uncertain

NCBA GROUP FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

The regional business has continued to follow an encouraging growth trajectory becoming a key contributor to Group profitability

Strategic investments and advanced AI model training are paying dividends with superior credit outcomes and strong profitability in our digital business positioning us well for continued scale

NCBA GROUP FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Last year we strategically reoriented our funding mix towards CASA; this led to slight softness in our deposit book but lowered funding costs

Our non funded income streams received a healthy boost from fees derived from varied solutions we offer our clients

We continue to grow our FCY deposit book...

...we also saw solid performance in fees derived from cash management and insurance revenues

Through the interest rate cycle, we focused on active pricing discipline across all lending while tightening our deposit costs ensuring margin protection

Our efforts on balance sheet reorientation has been NIM accretive...

... delivering uplift in net interest income, despite decline in the CBR rate

NCBA GROUP FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Despite macro conditions; we have largely maintained the quality of our loan book compared to our peers and the industry

We achieved 6% YoY lending growth despite mixed economic conditions...

...while consistently maintaining a higher-quality loan book compared to peers and the broader Kenyan industry.
